cession from the new republic of Panama without paying for it the same amount that we agreed to pay to Colombia, a hue-and-cry would be raised throughout the civilized world, and we would at once be accused of ulterior motives from the beginning. The whole question would immediately be reduced from its high moral plane to one of dollars and cents. We should be placed before the world in the unenviable attitude of money-grubbers, and we should find it very hard to defend ourselves from the charge of sordidness.

We have, as Mr. Pryor says, conferred upon the Panamanians great benefits; benefits, in truth, for which there can be no money equivalent. But the fact that we have done so would not warrant us, in good morals, in charging them $10,000,000 for the service. We are not, as Mr. Pryor says, absolute masters of the situation, and we can compel submission to our wishes, whether they desire it or not. The loss of prestige which our government would suffer by taking advantage of the situation to withhold the $10,000,000 which we were to pay for the canal right-of-way would be a loss to us in due course of the amount of money specified.

It is not at all likely that any considerable number of Americans will be inclined to accept the view expressed in the utterances above quoted. The new treaty which has just been drawn up and is awaiting ratification by the government of Panama before transmission to the American Senate, provides, as we understand it, for paying to the new republic the sum of $10,000,000, the same as would have been paid to Colombia had Colombia ratified the Hay-Herran convention. There is a very good prospect that the new treaty will soon be ratified, and that the digging of the big ditch will soon be begun. The sooner the better.

WILLIAM OF PRUSSIA.
A hush fell upon the world, the other day, when the dispatches announced that the Kaiser had become afflicted with cancer. With the feeling of pity that surged up in the hearts of his fellow-men, of every race and of every clime, there was mingled, also, a sense of awe. For, a stately figure in the world's events, this little man, who was now upon his knees, the Prussian crown in hand, in character, from head to foot, he is every inch a King. And if he be that death has now marked him for his own, it has indeed chosen a shining mark.

Once, when the Kaiser was new to the throne of his fathers, he attended a banquet of army officers, and, when he arose to address them, he threw his sword upon the table and cried: "There is the sword of the Hohenzollerns ringing defiance to all its enemies on land or sea." The critics throughout Christendom, taking up this incident, endeavored to create the impression that the young Kaiser meant to be quarrelsome and melodramatic. But the truth was that Germany had enemies and those enemies were the brave, young men, who were now upon the battlefields of the world. And today those enemies have learned that lesson. In the hands of Wilhelm II. the Fatherland has been saved. Not only that, but it has advanced and has been placed in the foremost rank of nations, morally, commercially, and in every other way.

And there is no German, no matter how proud he may be of his country's achievements in the past, nor how jealous of her glory, but may well rejoice in him, its latest ruler. It is most fervently to be hoped by all who admire in men, and especially in monarchs, those qualities of soul which make them great, that the malady with which the Kaiser is afflicted may be brought under control. The Kaiser's ailment is a serious one, and it is not to be wished that he should be afflicted with a more serious one. The Kaiser's ailment is a serious one, and it is not to be wished that he should be afflicted with a more serious one.

A bunch of Japanese warships are cruising around in the offing at Port Angeles looking for trouble in the shape of a battle. The Japanese navy is a powerful one, and it is not to be wished that it should be afflicted with a more serious one. The Japanese navy is a powerful one, and it is not to be wished that it should be afflicted with a more serious one.

Cripple Creek now has a vigilance committee. Such being the case we are likely to see an early return to a state of profound peace in that particular half-breed. There is nothing more likely to cause peace to reign in a community than a vigilance committee that is in first-class working order. But it is not to be wished that it should be afflicted with a more serious one.

Running cars these days through the streets of Chicago is a good deal like the operation of cabs through the boulevards of Paris during the time of the commune. And yet this is a free and presumably peaceful country in all particulars. From the evidence of the dispatches from the city of wind, soot and smoke, there are some of the particulars that ought to have early revision.

More power to the elbows of the anti-slavery department of the Los Angeles Board of Health. The scattering of handbills on the streets and at the doorways of residents is one of the most glaring nuisances of the municipality. We want clean streets and we want them to be so. If it takes a month of Sundays to secure reform in that direction.

The battleship Massachusetts which recently attempted to sail straight across the New England section of our common country, thus emulating the example of the Texas during the Spanish war, is now about to be put to the test of the great briny and ready for the fray. May she never be called upon to get into one.

Mr. Schwab has been charged with the plebeian offense of bribery in open court. And this of our young Napoleon "ferocious" who was lately being held up to the youth of America as a model of all that is smarter than chain lightning! This shattering of idols is most painful, and particularly to the idol.

Spain has buried the hatchet and will appear at the St. Louis Exposition with the best show she can get together. She will be welcome in our midst as the most favored of nations. We remember San Juan, but with regrets that it was ever necessary to go to the Malina, we may say as much.

The price of turkeys in New York this day is up, but they haven't reached the skyscraper altitude of Los Angeles at that particular. Possibly the turkey family has also worked up some of those tricks on us. Well, what the matter with the radiators? Never did like turkey, and let it go at that?

Congressman Livermore has been entirely successful in making an ass of himself in the House of Representatives. He has been so successful that he has been expelled from the House. He has been so successful that he has been expelled from the House.

Germany has formally recognized the new Panama republic and there is little doubt that neighboring nations will stand up to the new republic. It has been easy and pleasant sailing for the little sister down south, hating the way her mother feels about the break.

The warmth now in evidence over the heating apparatus of the new county hospital is probably several degrees higher than the radiators will afford when the furnace is fired up. It seems to be about as easy to start a row in this town as it is in an Irish fair.

Fighting is still going on at Santa Domingo, but it is hardly possible that the Kaiser will be able to get into it. It is right back there in Chicago, where the police have been instructed to shoot and not waste any cartridges.

No sooner does Panama become a republic on her own account than Great Britain begins to talk about her. This is a very old story, and it is not to be wished that it should be afflicted with a more serious one.

Were Gen. Wood on the ground at Waverly he would be in the midst of almost as hot a fight as he has been in over the years. But it would be a different sort of a row and probably less of his liking.

We are to have a new medical college in our midst. We can wish the readers of this great religious daily no kinder thing than "Here's hoping that house of them may ever become a subject of it."

Colombia shouldn't feel too badly. Just look at California and the way she has been treated. She has been treated as a subject of it. She has been treated as a subject of it.

The police of Chicago have been instructed to shoot to hit. It is certainly a very pious idea. The time for shooting the mark in Chicago has gone by several tumultuous days since.

Another batch of Missourians are on trial, but no alarm is involved this time. Los Angeles appears to be having a monopoly of the alum disturbance at the present writing.

Successful Concert by Chorus.
The inception of the choral season, which occurred last night at the Mason Opera-house, was markedly brilliant. The chorus was in excellent condition.

To begin with, it was a purely local affair and of such dimensions that it practically excluded the whole of Los Angeles. The chorus was in excellent condition. The chorus was in excellent condition.

FIGHTING BRYAN REQUEST.
NEW HAVEN (Ct.) Nov. 24.—Count Bryan today filed an appeal to the Superior Court from the decision of "Probate Court" in the case of the estate of the late Senator William Jennings Bryan. The appeal is taken from section 12 of the will, which gave the estate to the late Senator's family.

the crowd for the big football game tomorrow. The crowd is so large that the gridiron and bleachers will be completed early this morning. In every particular the grounds are superior to any that this section of the country has ever known. The thousands of seats extending almost to the north of the field will give the thousands of spectators, which assuredly will attend, the best view of the field anywhere. The young giants will struggle behind a barbed-wire fence inclosed by the gridiron, and the gang of hoodlums who delight in crowding out on the field will find many difficulties in the way. Thirty-five policemen will be stationed to see that order is maintained and the crowd stays where it belongs.

The expense has been paid to pro-management company of the city will have charge of the selling of tickets and the students of the Harvard University will be the main attraction. The sons of the company, act as usher which should make the game the best managed football contest ever held in the city.

It was learned last night from reliable source that the management has expended nearly $5000 to bring out this game.

The game has been very popular, and it is estimated that about 600 persons will witness the game.

The game should be a "cracker" if everything considered, the teams appear to be evenly matched. The Indians have an advantage in weight and height, but the points the Indians will get, will be made up by the up where the college boys have the best of it in this particular. In the case of left tackle, Pierce is a better player than the regular, Fred Williams, weighing only 170 pounds. Ward, center for the Indians, has 125 pounds to buck against the 225 pound Mackenzie. The Indians bet on Mackenzie, but the Indians' weight, have a big advantage. On the other hand, the Stanfords have a better knowledge of the game and are more experienced. It probably offsets the disadvantage in weight and brute strength of the red men.

The Stanford team will be the national eleven which met the Berkeley team on the 14th inst. The Indian eleven will be vastly strengthened by the addition of Benji Williams, a full back, who distinguished themselves in former on the famous Carlisle team, the only vulnerable points the U.S.C. boys found in the Indians' line were the backs. The Indians were not asked for good gains. Pierce's holder will probably hold down those ends in the Thanksgiving game, and the Indians' backs will be in for a ride on their toes every minute there will be no holes there. The Indian line can make a good stand in a tight place, was shown in the game with U.S.C. when the Indians' backs forced almost the length of the field, rallied in the very shadow of the goal and took the ball on downplay. The Indians' backs are not players who are peculiar. They do not play steady, consistent game that a well-trained college team puts up. The Indian is full of surprises, and the surprise is the surprise of the spring of the copper-head back is an attraction. At a moment when touchdown is least expected, an Indian will come rushing line with the ball, and it is not infrequently or possibly even usually, a matter of cleverly running and dodging with interference makes the required number of yards to the coveted touchdown. It is not surprising, therefore, about the way the Indians made one their touchdowns on Berkeley last year and the year before, and on the C. team last year when Stephen C. was away for a six-day run and touch-down. The Riverside boys have never yet tried to score against any of the big teams, but it is not surprising that Stanford will have to do better than one and probably two touchdowns if she downs the husky boys of yesterday.

It is generally thought that Stanford will win, and many think by a margin, but a few small bets made yesterday drew money on Indiana.

Manager D. V. Condon of Stanford died last night, and both teams expected here today. Both claim to be in perfect condition.

ster lodging-house, No. 1012 E. 12th street. The deed was probably committed Saturday night, as he was seen at the place Sunday morning. The man was simply discouraged with struggle, and calmly prepared to rest from it all in death. He was about 35 years of age, of medium size, and of a fair complexion. His days, as his manner was that gentlemanly, and his clothing good.
He carried a cheap room at the Rich-ten days ago. Apparently just before he was shot he had a quarrel, and went in and out quietly sullenly. He gave the assumed name of Charles Holmes, and the sole possession of a small amount of money in a bank book. This showed a balance of $45 in the Security Savings and was made out to C. J.
Holmes, 228 E. Third street.
The only thing that was fortunate said during his ten days at the House showed his discouragement. The landlord asked where he hoped to find the body and expressed despair: "I have been trying with a pick and shovel, but it hard for me."

He died in his night gown, and on his bed. He showed marks where he gouged the razor into the side of his neck, and neatly severed the jugular vein. The wound was not fatal, and the body was not injured. The blood ran for ten feet beyond the foot of bed, and he bled to death very slowly.

His face was black and the body decomposed when found last night. As the lodger had not been seen for three days, Proprietor J. H. Holin called the police to remove the corpse. Holin was about 35 years old, and had been here about a year.

LOCAL MAILS IN THE LEAD.

Los Angeles's General Delivery Exceeds New York's.

Appropriation Recommended for Enlarged Postoffice.

Ten Thousand Dollars Suggested
Through Senator Bard.

Does this look as if the foundation of a new Federal building is about to be laid?

A personal letter has just been received here by Motley H. Flint, Assistant Superintendent of the Salary and Allowance Division of the Postoffice Department, from Senator Bard in Washington, informing him that the Secretary of the Treasury has recommended to Congress that $10,000 be inserted in the Urgency Deficiency Bill for repairs on and enlargement of the quarters occupied at present by Federal offices in Los Angeles.

The items of this proposed appropriation are almost monopolized by the local postoffice, the business of which has expanded at such a remarkable rate that it now occupies more than twice the floor space it did at the time of its removal from the old Federal building on Main street, March 1, 1891.
At the time of the removal, the Los Angeles postoffice was doing a business aggregating $224,000 a year. According to the record up to September 30 last, it is doing an annual business of $471,000.

This month has already proved the greatest November in the history of the office. The working force is all but overcome by the incoming mails.
Some of this is due to the colonist rates which have prevailed on the railroads, flooding the southern portion of the city with winter visitors. But the regular winter influx of tourists has been, also, and holiday mailing is already being done in large quantity, so that life at Spring and Eighth streets is getting more strenuous every day.

This month the general delivery department of the Los Angeles postoffice has become the largest in the United States. More mail per day is handled in the general delivery department of the local office than passes through the same departments of the New York or Chicago offices. There are six general delivery windows in the Los Angeles office, while San Francisco has three windows.

A novelty in the line of mail handling is soon to be installed in the local office. It will be an automatic carrier system, operated on the system of package carriers from clerk to cashier in large dry goods stores, intended entirely for facilitating the quick handling of special delivery letters. It will run from the city delivery department to a newly-installed special delivery department and every letter bearing the special stamp will be whisked off to the latter department in the automatic carrier for immediate delivery to its destination.

Two hundred and forty additional rectable mail boxes are to be installed.
The largest style mail pouch rack made has been set up in the new room lately occupied by the city distribution department. It is a semi-circular affair that holds 124 pouches open-mouthed, into which the busy distributors cast the different classes of mail with lightning quickness and wonderful precision.

The two apartments now occupied by stores, along the Spring street front of the new building recently occupied in the major portion by the city delivery department, are to be taken over by the postoffice; for the spacious room in the rear, measuring 40x18, is already becoming crowded. This will add a space 40x18 feet.

A new department has been opened for the handling of "dead" mail. There are unclaimed pieces of mail, those improperly addressed, and those lacking sufficient postage, are released, and advertisements of the failure to "connect" prepared for public display. An mail is handled there each week.

A room has just been finished off for the exclusive use of carriers, in which each has a separate locker for his belongings.

Some of the items of the appropriation for Los Angeles recommended by the Secretary of the Treasury are:

THIRSTY CAHUENGA WANTS TO ANNEX.

WATER, water, everywhere, nor any drop to drink, is about the state of peculiar affairs that prevail in a large slice of the Ca-huenga school district.

The city of Los Angeles has informally notified the people living in that district that the water supply heretofore furnished by the city will be shut off December 31. The West Side Water Company has been approached, but will not furnish water to the district.
As an alternative the inhabitants will have to get up at early dawn and approach the well on the hillside, or the sweet dew off the flowers. Either that or cut out the thirst habit and take sun baths.

There is some doubt as to whether the city actually has the legal right to stop supplying this district water now, after it has been doing so for some time. If the annexation plan does not go through it may end in another big lawsuit.

The first steps toward securing annexation were taken last night at a public meeting held in the Cahuenga schoolhouse on Vermont avenue. The building was crowded with interested citizens, and even the aisles were packed during the whole meeting. There was much enthusiasm for annexation, the only quandary being as to just how much territory should be taken in.

The meeting was presided over by J. J. Jones, and N. E. Walker was the secretary. The subject had a free discussion, ladies taking part in the speechmaking, and finally the motion that "We are in favor of annexing to the city of Los Angeles," was passed by a unanimous vote.

A committee composed of John W.
Mitchell, J. L. Plummer and L. A.
Newman was selected to confer with the Water Board and ask for an extension of time on the water service, and to interview the City Council.

These committees are to decide on the lines, and to take complete charge of the movement was appointed, and consisted of John W. Mitchell, J. L. Plummer, L. A. Newman, C. A. Ensign and Charles Brown.

There seems to be a general opinion that the territory to be annexed should consist of the land on the west side of the present city limits on Wilshire boulevard and to the north limits of the city (being Benedict street), which is at about three and one-half sections of land and has an assessed valuation of $100,000. The north line would also form the boundary line of the city of Hollywood for one mile, but whether this is a desirable territory is at present in favor of annexation may be doubtful. It seems that those east of Vermont avenue, about two hundred families, are about unanimous for it.

ment to this effect. While the speedway scheme has not yet progressed far enough so that those in control are prepared to give out the location, several sites have been favorably considered. Some declare that the club did not act in good faith from the beginning, the speedway scheme having long been a pet idea of a certain person. Needless to say, it is to be strongly opposed by those in the club who think a promise should be kept in spirit and letter.

Automobile dealers yesterday took pronounced stands upon the subject and one of them stated he had expended much time and about $25 in dollars all he could do to "boost" the meeting, putting up with all sorts of deals from the management in the belief that the money would be spent in improving the country roads, any of which could stand quite a little "fixing."

THE records made by Barney Oldfield at Agricultural Park last Sunday afternoon do not "go."

In other words, they will in all probability not be accepted by the American Automobile Association, which has undertaken the control and regulation of the sport on this side of the water.

Sanction was given the Automobile Club of Southern California to run practically an unlimited meeting "because it had no dealers in it," but a leading officer of that organization stated yesterday that the meeting of the postoffice, $300; for building an asphaltum roadway in the rear alley, $75; for additional postoffice furniture, $150; for recapturing and adding to the furniture of the offices of the United States Marshal, judges, clerks and commissioners, $100.

It has been recommended to Congress that the appropriation for rent for the Los Angeles postoffice quarters be doubled, making it $25,000 a year.

Senator Bard took the subject of personally with the officials in Washington and brought about the recommendation.

FASHIONS FOR WOMEN.

Directoire coat has been revived as one of the most popular of the style and there is scarcely any figure to which it will not prove be-comely. The graceful line given by the cutaway skirts and the soft, fluffy material in the sleeves, the jaunty little vest which is the addition to the country, all go toward making it a most charming model.
The new in today's sketch is intended for carriage wear or a visiting coat.
It is in peach pink French camel's hair cloth over the same color silk. There is a panel at back with effect continued on the attached band. It is an indescribable shade of deep peach color, edged with a cream band, finished under plaited rosettes of moire ribbon in shade of cloth band. Chinese gift buttons in centers. The fronts of coat do not meet by much, showing vestee of Chinese embroidery in delicate colors on cream background. Large of cord and gilt buttons trim fronts in groups as on sleeves.
Decorative cuffs are of the velvet and moire and the double wrist ruffles of large lace. The strap belt is of the cloth with brass eyelets in and a buckle to match buttons.
The skirt is in ten gores, the one at the back in triple box plait and fits the knee, below which there is a decided flare.
Any of the costumes this season are without a touch of gilt, embroidery or braid, and all have velvet in combination, either self or contrasting. It is well known that this material brings out all the other with which it may be used. As to the gilt, or more precisely, the gold, embroidery and braids, two or three shades are employed, usually a pale greenish gold with burnt and a deep yellow the blending produces a very Frenchy effect, especially when trimming of blue.

with valencienne trimmings. She carried yellow chrysanthemums bound with white tulle. The groom was attended by his brother, Lamar A. Harris.

White and yellow prevailed everywhere, at this wedding. Above and below stairs every species of flower and foliage that could carry out the scheme was used. In each of the lower rooms a similar was arranged in canopy effects, with huge butterfly blossoms of white tulle fastened in the greenery at intervals. Nearly all of the furniture was removed from the parlors and dining-room. Two satin knocking pillows, directly beneath the bridal arch, were the only things upon the drawing-room floor. Above stairs a large chamber was almost filled with gifts of silver, cut glass and art work, coming from many cities of the United States, and some treasured trophies even from India, Japan and Europe.

On the tennis court, at the right of the house, a very large tent was erected by Hoegge, and all doors and windows opened from the dining-room directly into it. Decorations were carried out here in red and green, and Reynolds, assisted by thirty waiters, served supper to the guests.

Music was furnished during the evening by the "We Are Seven" Orchestra, and Mrs. Anna Virginia Metcalf-Hecker of Chicago gave a soprano solo. Ushers for the bridal party were Rugby Rose and Herbert White, while Harry Holland held the satin streamers that bound in the aisle through which the party passed after the ceremony the young couple was assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs.
Abner L. Ross and Hon. and Mrs.
Will A. Harris.

The reception lasted until 11:30 o'clock, at which time Mr. and Mrs.
Harris suddenly left—ostensibly for Santa Barbara. They will take a wedding trip of indefinite duration, and after their return will be at home at the corner of Twelfth and Hoover streets, where Mr. Ross has built a handsome home for his daughter, which will be completely furnished by the time she returns.

the center. Miniature pictures, tied with bows of red satin and bearing the names of the young women, served as place cards.

Mrs. Morgan's guests were Miss Florence Heilman, Miss Beanie Millar, Miss Louise McFarland, Miss Laura Solano, Miss Marie Spiller, Miss Kath-

Actresses Remembered.

Misses Pearl, Grace and Lena Tyson, talented and pretty actresses, with the "McWatters and Tysons" team, which has just closed an extended engagement at the Orpheum, quite won the hearts of the "boys in front" at that house. Sunday evening the ushers and doorkeepers planned a little surprise for them, presenting them, as a token of their friendship and good will a large harp of carnations and roses.

A SONG OF BRIGHT DAYS.

The bright days—they are coming, no matter what they say.
For 'neath the snows of Winter dreams the violet of May.
And some time, in the future, in the golden years to be, There'll be blossoms in the desert, and the streams will sing to sea.
The bright days—they are coming; there's a twinkle in the light In the storm that has its shadow on the starry brow of Night.
And some time—in the future, when the clouds have faded far,
The Sun will greet the Morning and the Night will claim a star.
The bright days—they are coming, in the cities and the dells There's a whisper of the music from the Morning's golden bell!
And some time, in the future, when the skies are bending blue, There'll be angels at the windows, and they'll kiss their hands to you!

stitution.

they assimilate in the stomach—the joint, the game, the Committee on Promotion and Publicity Bites Off a Big Chunk of Work for itself.

A committee on Promotion and Publicity is said to be an entire innovation in the history of Methodist General Conferences, but Los Angeles is given to the creation of innovations of every sort, and why not in this direction?

When the committees were organized to take up the work of the coming great convention, they appointed the following Committee on Promotion and Publicity: Rev. George A. Hough, chairman; Rev. Robert S. Fisher, secretary; Rev. Dr. Robert McIntyre, Lincoln Rogers, A. E. Penney, Walter Mellick.

This committee held its first meeting yesterday and celebrated the event by blocking out for itself a stupendous piece of work for the conference. It was decided without much ceremony to issue a Los Angeles General Conference number and supply it to 150 religious papers throughout this and other countries. This paper will be ably edited and elaborately illustrated with views of the city and Southern California. Among its features will be a poem on the attractiveness of Los Angeles and Southern California by Dr.

Robert McIntyre.

It was also decided to issue 50,000 handily printed and illustrated booklets, of seventy-two pages, filled with valuable information for those who come here to the conference and setting forth the attractions of the Sunny Southland.

The committee did not stop there.
It resolved to send the chairman of the committee on a tour of visitation to all the spring conferences, held in the local districts throughout the East, and Mr. Hough will start on his mission some time in February.

A Labor Question.

"What are you feeding to those hogs, my friend?" the professor asked.
"Corn, professor," the grizzled old farmer, who knew the learned gentleman by sight, replied.

"Are you feeding it wet or dry?"
"Dry."

"Don't you know if you feed it wet the hogs can digest it in one-half the time?"

The farmer gave him a quizzical look.
"Now, see here, professor," he said,
"how much do you calculate a hog's time is worth?"—(Lippincott's Magazine.)

That a seat on 'change in New York has declined from $2,000 to $2,500, in Baltimore from $1,000 to $450, in Chicago from $180 to $400, and in our own change from $550 to $100 and from $2500 to $1000, respectively, shows pretty conclusively that the great family of "lamb" has cut a few teeth.

NIGHT ATTACK
BY INDIANS.Company of Mexican Soldiers Reported Destroyed.Only Six Men Accounted for and They Found Dead.Returned Mining Man Brings a Tale of Bloody Yagui Fights in Sonora.Sitting in the lobby of the Van Nuys last night a traveler just from the interior of the Yagui Indian country of Sonora related a tale of fighting and adventure that favors of the early days of the western frontier of the United States.S. J. Fleming of Boston, president of the Boston and Mexican Gold Placer Mining Company, returned from a two months' trip along the Yagui River, bringing the first news of a battle between Indians and Mexican troops which took place in the early morning of Sunday a week ago at Raposo, near Saqui Grande, resulting disastrously for the Mexicans, he says.The attack took place in the general vicinity of which the Fleming party was camped. A band of fifty Indians surprised a company of soldiers in camp, and after a sharp fight in the darkness, scattered the entire command. At the time of Mr. Fleming's departure only six of the entire company had been accounted for, and these were found dead. The rest had fallen into the hands of the natives, or been driven into hiding in the rough mountain country. The company was under the command of Col. Francisco Picardo of the Fifth Regiment of Rurals.Mr. Fleming declares there is nothing in the general details which are often sent out from over the border to the effect that there is no Indian outbreak in Sonora. Two of Mr. Fleming's own men—both Mexicans—were shot dead from ambush in an attack made by the Indians during the trip from Orizaba to Cumplera, on the Yagui River. A week before the fight at Raposo, a disastrous battle took place between the soldiers, a band of Indians, and a caravan that was freighted with the mines of La Dura district on the same road which his party traveled, and their malice taking a funny turn, they threw the Mexican prisoners naked and turned them loose in the wilderness to wander back the best they might, without food or water.Every settlement of consequence bordering the Yagui district is strongly garrisoned by the Mexican troops, he says, and in "Cumbria" there is not an inhabitant venturing on the streets after nightfall save those under arms.Mining expeditions about to start into the troubled district first obtain permission from the government for their exodus of troops. Mr. Fleming reports that Capt. J. Frank Hand, a well-known mining expert of Denver, has been waiting at Orizaba some time, unable to get his affairs in order, because he cannot get help to accompany him without a heavier escort of troops than he is willing to arrange for."If you believe the reports that there isn't any trouble on the border, you just make a trip through there and be convinced," said Mr. Fleming last night. "You'll find plenty of the old-fashioned frontier of the Yagui district."At our camp at Cumplera, 110 miles east of Orizaba, on the Yagui River, we employ eight Mexican laborers. Every one of these men works with a Winchester rifle within reach of his hand, and a belt and a belt of ammunition. It is the Mexicans that the Indians are after. Reputable American travelers, who travel in the Yagui district, are spared by the Indians, but of course they run considerable risk when traveling with Mexican companions. American travelers are really safer without an escort of troops. In an attack on a party from ambush, two of my Mexican helpers were killed."Superintendent Sullivan of La Dura mines, whose body was found some time ago beside that of one of my Mexicans, on the road, is the only American that has been killed by the Indians, so far as I know, in the last six months."The Yagui ammu- in their arms and ammunition from the United States, and are desirous not to have this source of supply denied them through angering Americans who enter the country, hence they try to direct their bullets to Mexican bodies alone. The Mexican authorities have prohibited the importation of ammunition into Sonora. They allow a foreigner coming in to carry one gun and a limited number of cartridges, but when he exhausts these, it is practically impossible to purchase more in that State."The Mexicans do everything possible to protect American interests in their country, and the Yagui district is a very rich mining field. On the guerrilla warfare of the Indians. One day a Mexican came into our camp full of gold."WHAT SHALL IT BE?
WALDECK'S CASINO.WANTED—Some one to help Jacob Waldeck decide on business for his pretty little Casino theater.The new Spring-street playhouse is nearing completion, the date of opening has been several times set, and more and more uncertainty has shrouded the characters of the attractions to be placed upon its stage.
When the plans were first given to the public it was confidently announced that the place would be run at "ten-twenty-three" prices, with "popular" companies presenting vanuances and melodramas of various sorts.Next, it was thought that there would be vaudeville, with some twotiers that would rival the Orpheum Circuit green with envy.After that came the musical-comedy idea, with a hint of local aspirin soaring to the heights of song on its boards, and the introduction of some clever traveling organizations who would make a hit here.And then there were suggestions of Wolfebergian moves, and talk of the establishment of a regular burlesque theater in Los Angeles. These also passed and gossip knew them no more.

Just now—? ? ?

The genial manager of the Casino has gone to San Francisco to straighten out his perplexing tangle, and his employees confidently assertspeed, fleeing from the natives. He was shot clear through the body, and his horse dropped dead almost before he had stopped.Mr. Fleming had arranged for an escort of troops to meet his party at Orizaba, but the "sold" being late in arriving, he gathered a band of moses, or half-breeds, and made the round trip without soldiers.Another member of the expedition was J. Sydney Poole of Rockport, Mass., who also at the Van Nuys.
J. K. Carpenter of San Francisco, chief engineer of the company, was along, with his son, as well as Walter Kelley of Portland, Me., auditor of the company. Horace Chase, a well-known San Franciscan, came north with the party."The money that is going into the Mexican mining fields is stupendous," said the Bostonian. "Seven million of American capital has gone into the Sonora fields alone during the year."
John W. Gates of Chicago has put $7-000,000 in properties there.Mr. Fleming is president of the company operating the mines. The tourist inn, in Tennessee.INVITED TO DRINK

IN SONORATOWN.Laborer Fatally Wounded Apparently Without the Slightest Provocation, and Assailant Escapes to the Hills.
Victim's Intestines Are Cut Out."He said: 'Come on and have a drink.'"

"I said: 'All right.'"

Apparently just as diabolical and unprovoked as this dying statement indicates was a Mexican murder at the corner of Ord and Buena Vista streets at 4:10 o'clock yesterday afternoon.Quirino Garcia, a Mexican laborer with a wife and two children, was the victim. He is at the County Hospital fighting what is considered by the physicians a hopeless battle for life.Jacinto Ramirez, a fellow-workman, did the shooting, and he is fleeing and hiding from pursuing officers somewhere in the hills northwest of the city.The Garcia family and Ramirez both lived at Redona's lodging-house, No.
624 1/2 New High street.The man was chatting, friendly enough just before the shooting on the sidewalk in front of the Capitol saloon, corner of Ord and Buena Vista streets. Garcia declared Ramirez gave him absolutely no warning of his intention to shoot. After Ramirez invited him to drink Garcia says he reached to take a card which his friend held in his hand. Then Ramirez drew his big revolver, fired and ran.The bullet, which was of large caliber, struck Garcia in the abdomen close to the navel, and cleared through him. He was rushed to the Receiving Hospital, where it was found his intestines were torn. The bullet entered at the navel, passed through the stomach, and emerged from the back. He was taken to the County Hospital, but the physicians fear he will die from the shock and loss of blood.As Garcia fell Ramirez ran up Ord street, and disappeared into the hills.
The police were notified and detectives were on the chase within twenty minutes, several of them on horseback.
Ramirez succeeded in eluding the detectives until nightfall, but the chances are that he will be captured.

Cigarette Campaign—Will Address Boys of All Local Schools.President Alexander Hogland of the National Boys' and Girls' Curfew Association, is in town and purposes giving a series of lectures to the youth of Los Angeles.Yesterday Mr. Hogland visited the Ninth and Twentieth street schools, giving at each place, to boys only, an interesting address, "Boy Life." Mr.
Hogland emphasized the evils of cicigarette smoking, "crap" playing, and kindred evils, illustrating from the early lives of successful men the necessity of having an earnest aim in life instead of making fun of the object of all endeavor. The speaker insisted that the foundation for future success or failure is invariably laid in early years, and urged upon the boys the necessity of having a high ideal and strict integrity.Mr. Hogland has devoted the later years of his life to the youth of the land, and in his official capacity, visited over ten thousand schools. To this persistent worker belongs the honor of inaugurating the curfew movement, resulting in the adoption of the curfew law in cities and towns from the Atlantic to the Pacific.Mr. and Mrs. George Smith of Grand Rapids, Mich., 60 years of age, were killed by a fire which broke out in a fire which entirely consumed their home.

COUSIN OF LATE U. S. PRESI-

Old People.Mrs. Sarah J. Windrom of 429 W.
Erie St., Chicago, a member of one of the most distinguished families in the country, cousin of Zachary Taylor, twelfth President of the United States, and grand niece of Alexander Hamilton, who signed the Declaration of Independence, writes:"My appetite is all that could be desired. I sleep well, and my mind is clear, and I am interested in the affairs of life as I was fifty years ago.""When I was young cod liver oil was dispensed in a greasy, unpleasant form, and it fairly gagged me to get it down. Vinol is so different, palatable and nourishing to imperious blood.""I feel so much stronger, both mentally and physically, since I used Vinol that I feel it my duty, as well as a pleasure, to recommend Vinol as the best tonic I ever used in my life."Do you wonder that our Vinol has such a strong hold upon the esteem of doctors and patients? We know of nothing else that will accomplish such wonderful results, and, further, Vinol is not a patent medicine.There are hundreds of old people in this vicinity who need just such a strength-maker and tissue-builder as Vinol. Their blood is thin and slushy—Vinol will enrich and quicken the blood and build up the system.
It is so much better than whiskey and strong stimulants, which always have a bad after effect and weaken and break down. There is nothing in the world so good for the weak, aged or the run-down system and to cure a hanging cough or hacking cold as Vinol, and because we know so well what it will do we are always ready to refund every cent paid up for it if it fails to do what we say. Try it on

GOOD DINNER WILL BE SET.

Worthy Poor Need Not go Hungry Tomorrow.

Why Shouldn't Everybody in Los Angeles Give Thanks.

Turkeys Come High, but There Are Other Things for Bill of Fare.

With turkey at 30 cents a pound there may be many people in moderate circumstances, who will manage to worry along without a Thanksgiving turkey tomorrow. There is no shortage in the supply, for the books of the retailers, as a rule, are hanging full of the tempting carcasses, and they can be had anywhere for the asking when the request is supplemented by the consideration of 30 cents for each sixteen birds. There is on hand a fair supply of small pigs, for those who prefer what the Dutchman calls "dem heids hock," but they sell at $3.25 per head, or about 32 cents a pound. Chickens there are, but at 25 cents a pound

she has a well-filled Thanksgiving basket of provisions.

"I find next a woman who is afflicted with a drunken husband, and among other supplies scheduled for her is coal. This is an exceptional case, but if we were to undertake to give fuel to all the faithful women who are cursed with drunken husbands, it would soon exhaust our funds.

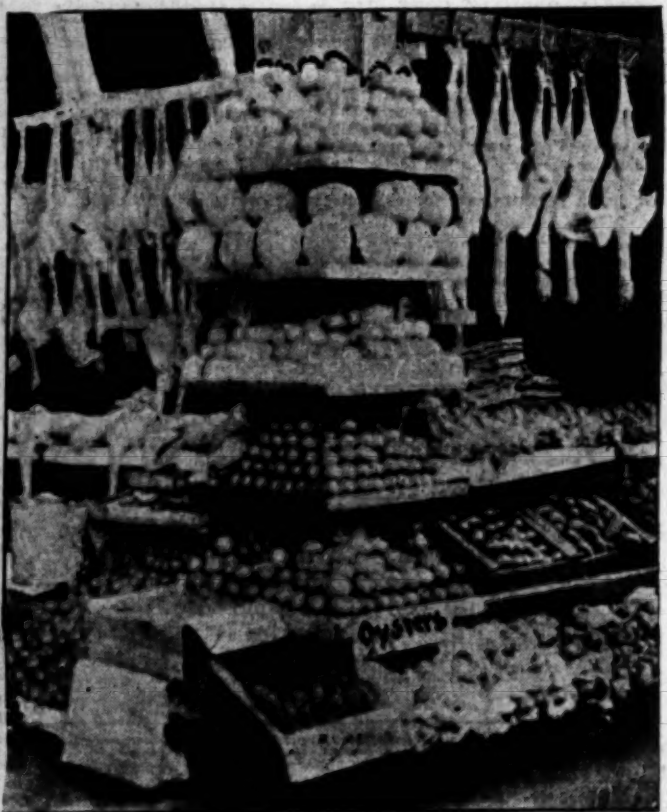

Here is the woman whose cow was recently destroyed by the health department, because it was afflicted with tuberculosis. We will look after her on Thanksgiving.

"Some time since a woman was terribly burned in fire in which her husband lost his life, and she is left helpless with her children. We have had her under our care, in a measure, for some time, and she will not be forgotten on Thanksgiving.

"These cases might be cited almost indefinitely," he said, as he threw the list aside, "and we hope, to make many of this class happy, not for one meal alone, but by sending them baskets that will supply their wants to some extent for several days. We do not do this by random, but we either know of the cases for ourselves and have personal knowledge of the condition of the families, or the names have been brought to us by faithful deaconesses and others whom we can trust to find those who are both poor and worthy of our help."

VOLUNTEERS' DINNER.

This annual feast to the poor by the Volunteers of America has taken on greater proportions than formerly. The donation of $100 by H. E. Huntington had the effect of moving others to give, and the V.W.C.T.U. has volunteered to help serve the dinner and to supply a bouquet for each guest. They will also send out boxes and baskets of provisions to worthy families.

A THANKSGIVING CORNER.

the advantage is not much over a turkey, and oysters are 60 cents a quart.

It is apparent, therefore, why the books of the dealers in poultry are not depleted as rapidly as they would like, and there is talk about the price being reduced today. Asked about this, a dealer said he didn't think it likely, as the wholesalers had so cornered the market that he had some turkey at a pound.

There are two classes of citizens who apparently will not be deprived of their turkey Thanksgiving dinner tomorrow on account of the elevated price of the great national bird—the fairly prosperous and the very poor. The various organizations and institutions that always have an eye open for people who, by reason of adverse circumstances, might not enjoy the luxury of a good dinner on this day when all should be able to find some reason for being thankful, have been industriously at work for a few weeks collecting funds and soliciting supplies for the annual feast.

While they have been successful beyond many other years, there is still a demand for more, as the number of those who are reported as needy seems to be greater than formerly. It is likely, however, that the real fact is that each year makes people less sensitive about accepting the good offices of those who seek to make their lives brighter.

Great care is used in selecting those families that need help, and a few cases will show the class of people who are particularly sought out by the Salvation Army, to be the recipients of needed assistance.

For those who are able to buy there is no lack of every good thing, and as Thanksgiving doesn't depend upon munching the carcass of a turkey, everybody will have a joyous day. There probably was never scheduled in Los Angeles a more elaborate festival of private dinner parties than there is for tomorrow. Among them is at least one which has the novelty of originality coupled with a deep interest in homeless young men.

MRS. CLEAVER'S IDEA.

At the Y.M.C.A., the wife of Secretary Cleaver found her mind running on the number of young men who would be dining at restaurants on Thanksgiving, thus eliminating from their enjoyment of the day, everything except the feed. She conceived the idea of getting up a Thanksgiving dinner by the help of all the young men of the association, who cared to join in, so it at once took the form of a joint family feast, in which each acts the part of host to his neighbor. Every young man who cares to join pays in 25 cents, and with the good offices of the secretary, the dinner will be a home dinner at 5 o'clock in the evening. It would have been difficult to conceive a happier plan for uniting the enjoyment of home with the Thanksgiving feast, where the home was entirely lacking.

GIVE THEM A LIFT.

"Now here," said the officer in charge at the Salvation Army headquarters, "there is a woman whose only support is her son, and he is sick. While they have been able to obtain the necessities of life, they have not been able to secure medical attendance, and they will receive help in that direction."

"Here is a poor woman who came here with a sick husband and seven children. Their hopes were not realized, and the husband, instead of getting well, died, and left her with the hopeless task on her hands of caring for all those children. We will see that has, and hope to be able to supply clothing to many children who have been kept from school because of the insufficiency of their parents.

The order for the turkeys has been given to a farmer, thus insuring only fresh and the freshest, and sweetest quality. The demand for provisions is by no means supplied, and Capt. Hughes is ready to receive all donations at No. 120 East First street. A special appeal is made for second-hand clothing of good quality, as they have applications on file from worthy people who desire assistance in that way.

At the Bethlehem Institution preparations are being made to serve dinner to about 400 people; at the Good Samaritan Mission several hundred will be served with a repast at 6 o'clock in the evening; a turkey dinner will be served to the 120 children in the Orphan Asylum, at the corner of Yale and Alpine streets. There is a general preparation throughout the city, at all the benevolent institutions, to care for those who seemingly have no Thanksgiving dinner in sight from any other direction.
